ANOTHER

Fearful Hotel Disaster

IN CHICAGO

AVERTED ONLY BY THE TIMELY USE OF THE

LEWIS

Hand Fire Extinguisher

READ THE FACTS.

[From the Chicago Daily Inter-Ocean March 31, 1885.]

HAND FIRE-EXTINGUISHERS.

A proprietor of one of the largest and most fashionable hotels on Wabash avenue informed your correspondent yesterday that about one month ago a fire occurred in one of the rooms of his hotel, in the extinguishing of which was fully demonstrated the great value of a reliable hand fire-extinguisher, and which prevented a probable disastrous conflagration. Just before the dinner hour a boy rushed up to the office from the street and informed the proprietor that the hotel was on fire, designating the window where he had seen fire and smoke issuing from. On arriving at the room he found the carpet, curtains, mattresses, clothing, and frame of either. Having secured on his way upstairs two fire-extinguishers, he was enabled to extinguish the fire almost instantly. He said in describing it, "the effect was magical," and he was very enthusiastic in his praise of the extinguishers.

He said the same afternoon he sent in an order for an extra quantity of extinguishers.

The hotel had only a short time prior been supplied by the Lewis Hand Fire-Extinguisher Company of No. — State-street, and although he had never seen the Lewis tested he was satisfied it was a practical, common-sense extinguisher, and one that would be used with effect under any and all circumstances, and his experience has proved his judgment correct, as he states it would have been impossible to use a Grenade under the circumstances, and he has authorized the Lewis Company to refer any one to him who is anticipating purchasing fire-extinguishers.

The above speaks volumes for the efficiency of the Lewis Hand Fire-Extinguisher, and we are not surprised that many of our leading property-owners and corporations are ordering their buildings furnished with the Lewis Extinguishers.

The above should awaken Hotel-keepers everywhere to the necessity of furnishing each room in their houses with this simple, cheap, and reliable appliance.

It Is Not a Grenade.

Advices from Nebraska, Northwest Territory, confirm the report that the Indians have started for here. All but seventeen they were preparing to attack the invaders when the whitehorse was intercepted. They have asked Indian Agent Reese for a conference. Sitting Bull, Blackfoot, said last night to the Canadian Parliament that he had received the dispatches from the Blackfoot, and he is trusting that the Indian scouts at Battleford will [illegible] with a satisfactory solution, and the other that Crowfoot, Chief of the Blackfoot, had consented to be here. Crowfoot is the most powerful Chief in the Northwest, but his staff is not to be depended upon. Riel is said to have 1,000 men with him. Troops are being sent to the front as fast as possible from every direction.

Secretary Bayard has received a dispatch from the United States Consul-General at Panama yesterday informing him that Gen. Prestan, the rebel leader, had seized the Panama railroad company's lines and imprisoned the officials and agents of the company, Colonel Wright, and other Americans. Secretary Whitney has telegraphed to Admiral Jouett, who is now at San Francisco, to proceed to Key West with the Tennessee and Pensacola and have satisfactory instructions. The commanders of the officers, now at Key West, have been ordered to Aspinwall. The Secretary also telegraphed to Commander Evans of the Galena, at Aspinwall, directing him to afford all possible protection to American citizens. Her Majesty's Minister left on receiving the letter of Count Castella, the local news and returned the compliment.

Dispatches from Tehran confirm the report that the Turkish outposts were attacked recently within eighteen miles of Sheikh Saeed-Ali. The Earl of Darlington said yesterday in the House of Commons that the Government were desirous to give any information at present concerning the progress of negotiations with Russia. The war cloud is [illegible] however, to be disappearing, and the belief is general that the Zulu-Afghan difficulty will be soon adjusted. Russia's reply to England's proposition was received last night. It is pacific. It is not necessary to understand that Russia agrees to nothing except the proposal to leave the questions of the frontier undisputed and to let the Joint Afghan Boundary Commission at work. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 31.—A prominent Democrat who has been in close relations with the Administration since its inception, and who has been a frequent visitor at the White House, said to-day: "The President has been very much annoyed by the persistent efforts of Democratic Senators and Representatives to secure the removal of Republican officials and the appointment of Democrats to their places. He has been overwhelmed with applications for the removal of Republicans, and has been importuned to appoint Democrats to fill the vacancies thus created. He has been compelled to spend a large portion of his time in listening to the recommendations of Democratic Senators and Representatives, and has been annoyed by the persistency with which they have urged the claims of their friends upon him. He has been compelled to refuse to listen

Queen Esther Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star gave a grand ball and banquet at the Grand Pacific last night. The proceeds of the entertainment will be turned over to the members of the deceased Master Engineer Evans, whose life insurance amounts to $5,000. The banquet was managed by a ball entering the hall.

At the regular meeting of the Lincoln Park Board yesterday no action was passed to proceed with the work on the Lake View avenue boulevard, or apply to the commissioners to allow the Lincoln Park Commissioners that portion of the park lying south of Diversey avenue.

Frank Aiken, late Superintendent of the Brighton Cotton-Manufacturing Company, now before Judge Gary, Monday, was given six years in the penitentiary by the petit jury of the city council to begin yesterday morning. He is 45 years old and has a wife and two children. What the motive was that induced Aiken to make off with money in the case.

The Liquor-Dealers' Association will yesterday afternoon at No. 120 Randolph street. Public Hall, "Dutch" Davies, J. J. Lonergan, and several other members were expelled from the association for non-payment of dues, a new law was made declaring should not pay their dues by the 20th of the month succeeding, and the penalty thought the penalty against himself to have been made useless.

At a meeting of the Daughters of Erin, held last night at No. 119 West Twelfth street, Grandma Power (Cleary) to the chair, Dr. John Dewan delivered an address concerning the policy of Parnell in reference to the Irish prisoners and closing by the recommendation of all the members to aid of the new organization. There was a Social Reception and refreshments served.

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning the dead body of A. S. Mercier was found concealed by a sand bank a mile north to the rear of Lincoln Fairbanks's lodging-house, No. 119 West Chestnut street. It is supposed that family difficulties were the cause of the suicide, as he left his wife and children, who live on West Twenty-second street, a short time ago and engaged a room at Fairbanks's.

At 9 o'clock yesterday afternoon an unknown man, while under the influence of liquor, fell over the railings in front of No. 56 West Randolph street into the basement and fractured his skull. The unconscious man was picked up and was taken to the County Hospital, where it is thought that he cannot recover. He was about 40 years old, had a dark mustache, and was dressed in a gray suit.

E. S. Dixon, Collector of the Forth District, has finished his work and turned over the books to Collector Stone. The books balance to a cent. Do the Democrats Mean Confidently Business by Fusion—Quite Such Talk as the Ex-mayor.

THE SITUATION.

Democratic politicians in conversation, whether with each other or with outsiders, appear to be somewhat anxious, and the underlying cause of this anxiety, Chairman Harris and several Democratic leaders think, is the work of organization. Chairman Harris and other leaders are laboring with the utmost diligence to overcome the disadvantages which have existed in the past in the matter of organization, and it was reported early in the day that the judges of election in the Democratic wards of the West Side had changed in a number of instances, and were not to be found at the polls in the precincts over which they presided. Mr. Harris, after a visit which he paid during the morning to the Republican headquarters, declared that the reports which had been circulated to the effect that the Democratic leaders were deprived of the services of judges of election in a number of wards in the city were without foundation. He said that the judges of election in the Democratic wards were to be found at the polls yesterday according to the law, and that the judges of election in the Republican wards of the West Side had changed in a number of instances, and were not to be found at the polls in the precincts over which they presided, after a visit which each of them had paid during the morning to the Republican headquarters, where the captain of the precinct in which the judge resided had given him a notice of the change which he was to make in the polls.

The explanation to the Democratic and Fusion leaders was probably not entirely free from truth, as it was the good fortune of the Republican managers to discover the plot which was formed by the Democratic managers of the Democratic wards of the West Side, and which, through the aid of detectives employed by the Republican managers, was made public. The Democratic managers of the wards referred to, it is said, had arranged that the judges of election in the Republican wards should be changed at the last moment, and that Democratic judges should be substituted in their places. The Republican managers, however, discovered the plot, and the judges of election in the Republican wards were not changed, and were found at the polls when the polls were opened. The Democratic managers, it is said, had arranged that the judges of election in the Democratic Central Pacific to Be Leased to the Southern Pacific for Ninety-nine Years.

Railroads and Steamers Trying to Push Up a Pause on the Commodity Troubles.

The Anti-Forced Pooling Combination—Formation of a New Leather Pool.

A Grand Contract for the Lease of the Central to the Southern Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—[Special.]—The Chronicle this morning has an interview with Charles Crocker, President of the Central Pacific Railway Company, this afternoon, in which he confirms the statement that a contract for the lease of the Central Pacific to the Southern Pacific Company for ninety-nine years had been practically agreed upon. The contract, it is stated, will probably take effect April 1. It provides that the Southern Pacific Railroad Company shall assume all of the obligations of the Central Pacific, the Southern Pacific Railroad Company shall pay the rent of lease and the interest on the bonded debt falling due of the consolidated road. The Central Pacific is to receive a rental of $1,600,000 a year and no stock under the arrangement
